

The Piano

If you enjoyed exploring the piano in today's assembly, why not explore some of the ideas for listening below? Some of these are amazing!

I would love to hear from you – which was your favourite piece? Send me a description of the piece, or tell me why you love it. You could even draw a picture inspired by the piece.

And if you play the piano or keyboard, don't forget to send me recordings of you playing! Who knows, you might be featured in the next assembly!

Hazel Scott playing two pianos at once

<https://youtu.be/1HdnjTCMzpg>

Pirates of the Caribbean

<https://youtu.be/n4JD-3-UAzM>

An inside-out piano performance

<https://youtu.be/unSIBQM1MPU>

Lang Lang playing the piano with an orange

<https://youtu.be/oiziGLe1jBw>

Debussy's Claire de Lune played to a 100 year old elephant

<https://youtu.be/i1qQOGCyRbY>

A piano falls apart mid performance – but that doesn't stop the music!

<https://youtu.be/QaZZRfx89W0>

Duel of the bumblebees

<https://youtu.be/LKNAFKEavSM>

World record: the most people at one piano!

<https://www.tedmed.com/talks/show?id=103843>