Dear Parents,

I am so sorry to be letting you know that Mrs Sparks remains unwell and will be unable to teach the children next week.

We have arranged for Mrs Becky Rogers, who the children now know well, to teach Thames class again from Monday to Wednesday next week, and for Mrs Charlotte Smith – who came in this week rather than Miss Coleman – to teach the children again on Thursday and Friday.

Please find attached an electronic copy of the homework which Mrs Sparks has set for Thames class, and which your child will also bring home as a paper copy this afternoon. If you would like to email the office with any of your child's completed homework for marking (where this is appropriate), or to print it out for your child to bring into school to be marked, please do so. However, you need not feel you are required to do this.

Again, I want to say how hard the children are working during Mrs Sparks' absence, and how pleased we are with them.

Please do not hesitate to get in touch with me, should you have any queries.

With my best wishes,

Grace Slater
Headteacher
